Awful Disaster

NEARLY 150,000 KILLED

One of the worst catnstrophes which has ever overtnken any part of the human race, and the most serious, that has occured in nearly a century, came Monday morning to Southern Italy and Sicily, which are in many ways the garden of the world. A tremendous earthquake, accompanied by a volcanic eruption, and followed by a wave thirty-five feet high runping in from the sea and fires every where that the wave did not rench, killed between 100,000 and 150,000 human beings, and wiped from the face of the earth dozens of towns and two large cities. In that beautiful, wealthy luxurlant country which, on Buuday was as happy and fertile and charming as any in the world, there, is today nothing but ruin, desolation and death in a hundred horrible forms.

Following the disaster, came, as hind. alwaya does como, famine. There is no food, no shelter, no way to get warmth or to cook, i'copie, what is left bound to be true,-A. Lincoin. of bappy familles, are living in caves. Men who were rich Sunday are dying today for lack of bread. All rallroads have been destroyed and it is almost Impossible to get food to the sufferers, the Italy is doing its best. And now pestilence is beginning to appear, and another horror will be added to the misery which has overwhelmed the people.

The first warning of the impending danger came with a low rumble about five o'clock Monday morning A moment later the shocks began, but nothing accurate has yet been received as to l. c. many they were, or how they acte all that is known is that cities is reled to ruin, houses every where disappeared in dust clouds, and that when the shocks had pansed thousands were lying mangled and dead or slying in the ruins of their homes Aud then, along the shores of the beantiful sparkling sea, came death in a new form A wave thirty-five feet high rushed far up on the land. Great ships In , the harbors were carried miles, someleft high and dry, liuman beings pinned in the rulns were drowned like rats and those who had fled to the streets to escape death from falling walls, met desth from the wall of

Soon whole cities were blazing-in one city, where there have had been fifty thousand luhubitants, only a few people are left allve-it was almost impossible to help those imprisoned in the ruins, and they, too died in the seething flames

Then came theft and murder. The jalls were destroyed and a flood of criminals turued loose. The police forces were in some pinces almost destroyed-law officers were busy saving the remants of their own familles-and crime reigned supreme. thead and dying were stripped of every valuable and those helpless but not dead were made so. Somo attempted reistance, and there was fighting up and down the corpse-filled streets. Helpiess women and children, seeking their dear ones in the rnins, were not spared-nien showing themselves less merciful than Nature had been.

Then followed starvation, and then pestlience. Troops have been sent In and the country is now under their control, but the fighting and stenling are not yet over, and the misery and suffering cannot be over for weeks,

Congress in Recess, Little Activity-Tariff Bill Will Provide for Decreased Duties and Reciprocity-Labor Lesders Hot.

> Washington, D. C., thec 28, 1908.

This has been a comparatively dull week in Washington, for Congress has been in recess, and many of the officiain have been away for Christman. The Departmenta are pretty empty, and husiness has been going on only enough to keep the government running in a rort of way.

The most important happening of the week has been the sentencius of times, and when the waters receded, the labor leaders to jail for contempt of court. This has aroused any amount of discussion, and will prohably continue to do so. Most men exers, admit that the men did wrong water, or were sucked, struggling in violating the injunction in the first back into the ocean. Over five hunpiace, and they have practically addred vessels were lost-many of them mitted it by announcing that they will give up the black list they are now carrying until the matter has many men, feel, however, that the sentences imposed are pretty severe, and some say that no capitalists have ever been imprisoned, in a similar case, and that therefore it is unjust to punish these men. However, the capitalists who were attacked in the snue way by the same men a few years ago because of their blacklist. obeyed the courts order, and so the one parallel case does not count for tauch. If anything it shows to the credit of the capitalists.

The laboring men are minking all kinds of political threats, and do not seem to remember that as recently as last fall, it was proved that the American people do not want a labor trust to rule any more than a money trust. The chief trouble with the labor leaders seems to be that they think that they are a sort of sacred elephant, and ought not to have to wait their turn and take their chances and obey the law like other men. Often, instead of trying to prove their case is right, they simply explain how many votes they control -which is very poor argument for the Amedican people.

THE ITALIAN DISASTER.

It is one of the beautiful things of our Christian Faith that it has made of all men one great brotherhood, so that in the suffering and mivery which has smitten Southern Italy, the sympathy and compassion of the whole civilized world go out to the unfortunate in a way which is impossible under any other faith, and which is at once wonderful in spirit and wonderfully helpful is practice. From the whole world, today, not only sympathy, but its visible expression in the shape of money and offerings and help of all kinds are going forward with the full strength of all our marvelous modern machinery, to relieve and save and cure.

All creeds and all nations join together to send this help. We, here, should not be without our share in the great work and from our safety and comfort should be willing and glad to spare at least a little fur the sake of those who are suffering thru no fault of their own. Let churches and lodges and private citizens prove in this emergency that their professions of brotherly love are real, and do a brother's share. Contributious for the work should be sent to the Red Cross, at Louisville, or Washington, D. C.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS.

There is a widespread custom of getting up a fine looking set of 'good resolutions" on New Year's Day, and taking a great deal of moral comfort in the fact that one is good enough to intend to do right. The resolutious usually fade in a few days, leaving their maker no better off, and perhaps a little worse for having failed again. Also, he is likely to get a habit of waiting till New Year's to start a reform, and then find that he has so many that he can't carry but a few of them-sometimes he gets discouraged and drops the whole lot. Any how, he has kept on doing what he knew to be wrong all the time, and that helps make it herder to slart right. Every man, who is really a man, and every true woman, start their reforms when they find they need them, and do not dally with vicea by saying, "Well, we will reform New Year's."

But there is another sense in which it is a good thing to use New Year's day as a reform period-and that is when the reform comes not because we set out to reform on that day, but because we take stock of ourselves theu, and find the flaws that we have overlooked in the rush of the last year's life. Most of us are too busy to look over our accounts with ourselves and our consciences as often as we ought to, and it is good to have some one day to do it in.

And, alas, when we the get at the job, what a lot of things we find to change, after all! When we get at it that way, New Year's reso intions amount to something-hat the more such New Years a man can have in each year, the better it will be for him, and for his friends, loo. A man ought to be reforming himself all the time, but if he cannot do it, why, it is better than nothing to do it just once a year. Only, what a poor apology for real effort that annual spurt is, and how likely it is to become simply a farce!

Thousandsticks, the Hyden weekly newspaper, and its enterprising editor, Mr. Chappell, are to be congratulated on the special boom edition got out last week. The paper is full of good things, and considering the combitions under which it was gotten out, is a remarkable production. It ought to help a great deal in the boom which is coming to Leslie County.

Now that Chrislmas is over, it is time to stop and remember that Christ's great work was not in being born, but in living, and that while we can celebrate His birth on only one day, we can and should celebrate His life by living right the other three hundred and sixty four days of every year.

I felt deeply chagrined, and resolved never again to put off a matter of this kind. The men had forestalled mo by only a few hours, for I had in tended arresting them that morning and there had been nothing in their conduct during my visit to their cahin to Indicate that they thought of flight.

"I noticed the absence of the pot which had supplied my supper, hat it was rather a aubcoascious aotice of it. The fact really made no appreciable Impression on me at the time, nor did lt, in fact, uatil more than a year had passed. It was then recalled by n newspaper dispatch under date of the small village.

"Some of the hoys in the village had appropriated the cahin as a sort of clubhouse, after the three men had fled. They would apend Saturdays there, fishing and awimming and hunting. Immediately in front of the cahin was n steep hank, and the river wi dened out into a broad, deep pool which afforded good fishing and swimming. The hoys would throw white pebbles into this hole and dive for them from the bank. One of them had struck his head sgsinst comething hard at the bottom of the river and had been pulled up a corpse, bis akull having been fractured by the impact

"The others investigated and found a large Iron pot half huried in the soft raised and its contents examined.

"I was in Little Rock when I read this dispatch and, without waiting for lastructions from headquarters, boarded the first train and set out for the village. I was in a state of fever ish excitement, fearing I would arrive there after the pot had been secured. I wanted to be the first to view its coateats. I felt sure I knew what war

"After a journey that seemed later minable I arrived at the village and inquired about the pot. My foars had heen groundless. With the indifference so characteristic in country people the villagera find forgotten, after the funeral of the unfortunate young man the lackdent of the pot. While there had been some talk of raising it, no one had taken the lead, and there the matter had rested.

"Securing a team of mules and some strong ropes and chains, I drove out to the cabln. By dint of much diving succeeded in fastening the chain about the pot and had my assistaant drag it out upon the hank. It was the vessel which had hung over the fire when I had visited the counterfeiters in their fair. Then I remembered its absence, when I had searched the hut after thelr departure. It was aealed with paraffin and senling wax, and aot a drop of water had passed the lid.

"I contained a complete set of ea gravers' tools, several hottles of power ful acida, glass stopped and scaled, a number of bars of silver, some three hundred odd counterfelt silver dollars, and the dies with which they had been stamped out. The dles were thickly conted with wax and were as bright and fresh as whea they heat out tha false coins in the secret cave.

"After swearing my assistant to secrecy, I returned to hesdquarters with my hooty.

"Not many weeks later two of the men wero captured. I had given the department a minute description of them, after their unceremonlous departure, and its vast machinery had been set in motion for their apprehension. It is a maxim of the service that a man once n counterfelter la al waya a counterfelter. This rule held good with reference to two of the men, at least, for they were captured and convicted of another job. The incidents i have just related were not introduced in evidence against them and consequently e caped the press. The ning with the hulldog jaw escaped completely nt that time, but I mot with him, years after, nader circum tances neither of us will forget so long us we livo.

MR. BERKELEY'S TURN TO SMILE.

He and His Auto Wio Out Over Linaberry and His Buggy.

"At last," said Mr. Berkeley, heaming. "I have had n y revenge." He was a stout and freekled gentleman, who cmed the most good natured fellow in the world. The word revenge sound d strange on his lips.

"Wh), Theodore Iterkeley!" ex-claimed his wife, "What a way to inik! One would think you were-a burglar."

Mr. Berkeley heamed at ber. "Just you listen," he said, "and I'li tell you the whole story. Do you remember last spring, when I was learning to run my auto, how I broke down out by South Farms, and had to get old Mr. Linaberry to tow me home?" llis wife nedded.

"Well, do you remember what a tale he made of it, and how everybody laughed all that summer at me? Again his wife nedded.

Well, ma'nm, I have had my revenge I was coming back from the res rveir this morning, when who should I see but the old gentleman standing by the readside by his shiftiess, rusty old buggy, trying to the up a splintered shaft. Naturally I stopped and asked if I could help. At that he sail no, but I saw that the shaft had heen broken in two places before and wasn't likely to stand mother bliching together, so I induced him to let me tow him."

Mr. Berkeley paused to churkle, "It was great, really great! lio sat In the back holding onto the whole shaft. Old Madge, the plehald nsg. fol lowed her string behind the buggy. Wedding Ring Story.

It was the habit of Rev James Spurgeon, grandfather of the great preach er of that name, to pray each even ing under a certain oak tree in a se cluded wood in Honeywood park

One night he dreamed, the story goes, that Satan appeared and thr at ened to tear him in pleees, if he fil lowed his accustomed route to the tree There was another pa h by which he might go In safety.

Remembering his dream, Spurgeon felt sorely tempted to take the route in which Satan was not. That this would be to ca itulate. Trembling in evrry ilmh, he made his way by the path in which the danger lay. He reached his goal in safety and prayer and song returned thanks for delivery from perli. When his prayer and ended be rose to return.

In his path lay a piece of solid gold "as large as a curtain ring." All in quiry failing to discover an owner he retained it, and when he married had his wife's wedding ring made from his eurlous find.

To Relieve Sessickness

Eugene Wolf, the German explorer says that for the last 15 years of the 30 he has spent in traveling he has studied the problem of a costless preventive of reasickness, and he hus reached the conclusion that the just means obtainable is a hot watersonked towel, folded tightly about the patient's head while he lies flat on his back. in Wolf's own words: "A remody for curing seasickness there is none, and never will be. The point, therefore, iles in its prevention, for 'prevention is better than onre.' My simple head bandage, made hy folding a towel, a large handkerchief or unything almliar, dipped into hot sait or sweet water, and applied round the head a few times, lestores the proper circulation of the blood, relieves the abdonien from pressure and cheeks the cerebral nnemia "

Still the Friday Superstition.

"The Atlantic liners are now running much oftener than they used to do. In time they will leave port every day in the week hit Friday. They will never sall on Friday on account of the Friday superstition."

The speaker, a shipping agent, shook his head and resumed:

"This Friday superstition is amazingly strong. It affects the educated no less than the lillterate. I know hardly a person who would set out on a sea voyage on Friday, and nobody would marry on that day, while there Is even, say the undertakers, a preju dice against Priday huriais.

"A Friday burial," he explained, "Is not supposed to affect the hereafter of the deceased, but to nugur lil for the health of the mourners throughout the ensuing year."

The Smart Scarfs.

Just at the present montent the sliks being used for the manufacture of the smartest scarfs have patterns which would seem to owo their inspiration to various phases of nature. Fruits and flowers figure very largely in the designs now as do all sorts of flowering plants and vines. The newest senris of this typo show another phase of nature lu their design. They have round balls of color suggesting suns crossed by fleecy rlouds. As the majority of these searfs are made of gruy brocade, the cloud effect is perfeetly apparent. The "sound from heaven" (its source) "as of a rushing mighty wind." More clearly In the revisions, "as of the rushing of a mighty wind." It does not say that there was any wind, but only a sound as of a wind. No "whiriwind shoot the hullling." "The audible sign fill ing the room announced the power represented by it as doing the same. -Prof. Hovey. "It (the sound) filled all the house," and was heard beyond its walls by the multitudes (v. 6).

(3.) The third manifestation was through the gift of tongues.

The Significance of the Symbols of the Spirit-the Symbol of the Wind-The Greek word, as the liebrew word, for "spirit" is the same as that for 'wind," which is a ustural metaphor to represent the spirit. Jesus himself so uses it in John 3: 8.

1. It is an invisible power of which no one knowa "whence it cometh or whither it goeth." But you cannot tell the causes, which are beyond our reach. Even to-day, when we have daily reports from the weather bureau, uo one knowa where and when a storm will arise. We see the storm and ita direction, and can tell with great probability to what pisce it is going and when it will get there. But for beginning and end we know not whence it cometh nor whither it gooth. 2. But we recognize it by its effects, in sound, in music, in force, in 3. It is essential to life.

4. It is all-pervasive. 5. It is very powerful. The air is so powerful that even free dynamite smiting against it on one side crushes the rocks on the other. The other day the air from an explosion of dynamite swept away nearly a whole village.

6. Yet it is very gentle and delicate, breathing around the rose, and gently touching the little child.

The Symbol of the Flame and Light. -1. It is mysterious in nature, ineffahly glorious, everywhere present, swift winged, undefiled, and unde-

2. It represents the healing power of the Hely Spirit, changing night into

3. It expresses this purifying power. it is a disease destroyer, a refiner of gold.

4. It symbolized the comfort, warm'h cheer, fresh life, joy, peace, which the Holy Spirit imparts.

5. Fire is the symbol of intense energy and zeal. The Holy Spirit filla the soul yith glowing enthusiasma and unconquerable energy and zeal.

6. Light convinces the world of dust. of dirt, of a thousand evil things unknown in the garkness. For examples, a ray of light in a dusty room and Tyndall's ray through the glass tube. showing seed germa that no other process could make known. So the Spirit convinces of sin, of the evils in

The truth of this lesson applies to boys and girls as well as to adults. It is asid of the hoy Jesus that "the grace of God" was upon him, while he "waxed strong, advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." John the Baptist also was filled with the Holy Spirit even from his birth.

Children need the Holy Spirit to help them to be good, and enable them to be disciples of Jesus,

The gift of tongues was an indorse ment of the command to disciple all nations, an inspiration to obey it, and a pointer to the means. "The human tongue, illuminated and sancitified by fire from the inner sanctuary, was shout to be the instrument of the gospel'a advancement." The Transformation of the Apostles.

One effect of this gift of the Holy Sairft upon the apostles was a wonderful change in them. It was almost a trausfiguration experience.

This is the power we need for our own growth in grace, and in every good word and work.

The great need of the church is a julier reception of this power of the ifrald of deep feeling, too convention il, not too practical, but too inclined to let our practice of good works be barren of twee and devotion.

Expenses, Regulations, Opening Days.

Berea College is not a money-making institution. All the money received from students is paid out for their benefit, and the School expends on an average upon each student about fifty dollars a year more than he pays in. This great deficit is made up by the gifts of Christian and patriotic people who are supporting Berea in order that it may train young men and women for lives of usefulness

OUR SCHOOL IS LIKE A FAMILY, with careful regulations to protect the character and reputation of the young people. Our students come from the best families and are earnest to do well and improve. For any who may be sick the College provides doctor and nurse without extra charge.

All except those with parents in Berea live in College buildings, and assist in work of boarding hall, farm and shops, receiving valuable training, and getting pay according to the value of their labor. Except in winter It is expected that all will have a chance to earn as much as 35 cents a week. Some who used to earn more may, by writing to the Secretary before coming, secure extra employment so as to earn from 50 cents to PERSONAL EXPENSES for clothing, laundry, postage, broks, etc., vary with different people. Berea favors plain clothing. Our climate is the best but as students must attend classes regardless of the weather, warm wrach thing, umbrellas and overshoes, are necessary. The Co tive Store furnishes books, tollet articles, work uniforms, umbrellae and other necessary articles at cost.

LIVING EXPENSES are really below cost. The College maks no rent for the fine huildings in which students live, charging only enough room rent to pay for cleaning, repairs, fuel, lights, and washing of bedding For table board, without coffee or extras, $1.35 a week in the fall, and $1.50 in winter. For room, furnished, fuel, lights, washing of hedding, 40 cents a week in fall and spring, 50 cents in winter,

SCHOOL FEES are two. First a "Dollar Deposit," as guarantee for return of room key, library books, etc. This is paid but once, and is returned

Second an "Incidental Fee" to help on expenses for care of achool buildings, hospital library, etc. (Students pay nothing for tuition or services of teachers-all our instruction is a free gift). The incidental Pee for most students is $5.00 a term ($4.00 in lower Model Schools, $6 00 in courses with Latin, and $7.00 in Collegiate courses).

PAYMENT MUST BE IN ADVANCE, incidental fee and room rent by the term, board by the half term. Installments are as follows: WINTER-12 weeks, $29.00,-in one payment $28.50.

Installment plan: first day $21.00 (including $1.00 deposit), middle ut SPRING-10 weeks, $22.50,-in one payment, $22.00.

Installment plan: first day $16.75. (including $1.00 deposit), middle of SPRING-4 weeks' term for those who must leave for farm work

SPRING-" weeks' term for those who mus! leave for teachers' ex aminations, $16.45.

Winter and Spring terms together, one payment, $49.00. REFUNDING. Students who leave by permission before the end of a term receive back for money advanced as follows:

On board, in full eact; that no allowance is made for any fraction of On room, or on any "special expenses," no allowance for any unexpired fraction of a mouth, and in any case a forfeiture of fifty cents.

On lacidental Fee, when one leaves before the middle of the term, a certificate is given allowing a student to apply ene-half the fee for term bills when he returns, provided it is within four terms.

IT PAYS TO STAY-When you have made your journey and are well started in school it pays to stay as long as possible

The first day of Winter term is January 6, 1909.

The first day of Spring term is March 25th, 1909.

LAST CALL FOR SCHOOL

The Citizen for the last two weeks, and again this week, has printed advertisements of Berea College, explaining to soung per ple both the need of an education and the way to secure it. The time has now come to do something about it. The winter term opens on Jan. 6, 1909, and all students who want a good running start in their term's work should be here by then, or before. There is no need to go over again all the arguments for going to school but it is worth while to stop at this time and remember that there are not very many chances to decided about going to school. The opportunity may be gone next year-it may never return-if you CAN go now, now is the time to go. The fears which deter you will be just as bad next year-and there will be no more reason for them, for they are mostly groundless. There is nothing to be gained by waiting-everything by acting. Now, act!
